Filmed just one year before his death, JOHN LEE HOOKER: THAT'S MY STORY takes audiences inside the life and times of this Blues legend, and the music that influenced a rising generation of rockers. John Lee tells the tale himself, with help from his family and musical colleagues including Eric Clapton, Bonnie Raitt, and Carlos Santana. From his youth as the son of a sharecropper, through his experiences touring the Jim Crow South, to his performances in San Francisco's Boom Boom Room during the last few years of his life, this film chronicles Hooker's path to becoming "The Godfather of Blues."

Rare and captivating live performance footage includes Hooker playing Blues favorites "That's My Story," "Boom Boom," "Boogie Chillen," and the Grammy Award®-winning "I'm in the Mood" duet with Bonnie Raitt.

- A must have collector's item for Blues fans—No collection is complete without it!
- John Lee Hooker is credited with creating the Blues genre, earning the title "The Godfather of Blues."
- The film includes interviews with Eric Clapton, Robert Cray, Bonnie Raitt, Carlos Santana, and other acclaimed musicians championing Hooker's style and talent.
- Jam-packed with live performance footage of John Lee Hooker playing his famous pieces, including: "That's My Story," "Boom Boom," and "I'm in the Mood."
