

SYNOPSIS BASS ACKWARDS reminds us that whatever we think the road is about, the trip is probably about something else. Alternating between scripted action, improvisation and the unpredictable spontaneity of vérité encounters, the film is the semi-autobiographical story of Linas Phillips and his old friends, costars and co-conspirators Davie-Blue, Jim Fletcher, Paul Lazar and Sean Porter. The film crosses the line between reality and fiction, incorporating the people and characters that Phillips meets on an unscripted and adventurous ride across America.

BASS ACKWARDS

The ultimate offbeat road trip movie

- BASS ACKWARDS will have its world premiere at the Sundance Film Festival on January 23, 2009, as an Official Selection and one of 8 American films selected for "NEXT (<=>)," which spotlights innovative and original work in low- and no-budget filmmaking.
- The film comes from producers Stu Pollard and Thomas Woodrow (True Adolescents) as well as famed "mumblecore" producer Mark Duplass (Baghead, The Puffy Chair, actor in Humpday).
- In the vein of independent film favorites such as Little Miss Sunshine, BASS ACKWARDS captures the humor and drama of life in a cross-country road trip.
- Grassroots marketing and PR outreach will target outlets for indie film lovers with exclusive clips and interviews with the cast and crew. PR campaign will leverage innovative release strategy out of Sundance Film Festival.
