"Going where no television dating show has gone before...matchmaking gay men." — Associated Press

Meet James. He's 32, single, drop-dead gorgeous, and looking for Mr. Right. James has his pick of 15 potential soul mates, and they'll do anything to get his attention. Watch as James eliminates suitors, until only his number one man remains. But what James doesn't know is, there's a catch—after all, this is reality television! Some of the "mates" are actually straight men, pretending to be gay! Should James select a gay suitor as his final choice, the two will ride off into the sunset on an all-expense-paid dream vacation. But if it's a straight man who catches James' eye, he wins $25,000, and James goes home alone.
