This unprecedented look into Robyn Hitchcock's creative process features 8 never-before-heard songs

Underground cult icon Robyn Hitchcock reveals his creative process as never before in this Sundance Channel® Original Production that chronicles his U.S. tour and a forthcoming album. Celebrated worldwide for his ingeniously twisted rock lyrics, Hitchcock is one of England's most influential songwriters and performers. This free-flowing musical interview gives an unprecedented glimpse into Robyn's mind as he's joined by friends and bandmates like Peter Buck and Bill Rieflin of R.E.M., Scott McCaughey from Young Fresh Fellows, Chris Ballew from The Presidents Of The United States of America, John Paul Jones of Led Zeppelin, and Nick Lowe.

Classic numbers like "I Often Dream of Trains," and priceless footage of Robyn performing with former Soft Boys and Egyptians band member Morris Windsor will delight staunch fans and convert new ones.

- Originally aired on the Sundance Channel® in April 2007, followed by multiple airings throughout the summer.
- Features original video footage of "I Often Dream of Trains" and special acoustic performances of "Uncorrected Personality Traits" and "My Wife and My Dead Wife" from Robyn's recent Maxwell's show with original Soft Boys band member Morris Windsor.
- Recent Robyn Hitchcock releases have Soundscanned over 165,000 units to date.
- This DVD streets nearly seven months ahead of the forthcoming album on which EIGHT NEW UNRELEASED SONGS will appear!
