

FROM THE DIRECTOR OF
METALLICA: SOME KIND OF MONSTER, PARADISE LOST, AND BROTHER'S KEEPER

From acclaimed filmmaker Joe Berlinger comes GRAY MATTER, a riveting true-life mystery and perhaps the most baffling conspiracy story ever told about World War II.

In 2002, Berlinger traveled to Vienna to witness the burial of the preserved brains from over 700 children who were experimented upon in a Nazi "euthanasia" clinic. GRAY MATTER chronicles the director's personal journey as he searches for forensic psychiatrist Dr. Heinrich Gross (notoriously nicknamed "The Austrian Dr. Mengele"), who allegedly participated in these mad-scientist trials for decades after the end of the war. Raising provocative yet respectful questions of guilt, redemption and the ethics of mankind, Berlinger sorts out the twists in one of history's lesser-known, unsolved puzzles.

- From acclaimed Director Joe Berlinger (Brother's Keeper, Paradise Lost 1 & 2, Metallica: Some Kind of Monster)
- Premiering on Cinemax in April, 2005
- Enthusiastic critical praise including raves from The Village Voice and Time Out New York
